

Hi, i'm Oğuzhan Kahyaoglu!

8+ yrs. Software Arhcitect, Full-stack Developer

.NetCore, Heroku, Azure, Unit Test (xUnit) Asp.Net WebForms/MVC, C#, Resharper/Rider Microservice, LLBLGEN, Entity Framework, Javascript, LESS, AspnetZero, AspnetBoilerplate, Mediatr&CQRS, T4, Template Editing (EF, VS, VS Projects), Regex, Hangfire, PayU, E-commerce, CruiseControl.net, Jenkins, SVN (externals), Gitlab/hub (submodules), Teamcity, Octopus, Selenium, Contentful, HeadlessCMS, and more!

Who am I?

I have been working at Enerjisa Uretim since the beginning of 2018 (for the first year, I was an outsource developer).

I deeply love Jetbrains products. At the same time, I am deeply connected to KISS, DRY and YAGNI principles.

Within Enerjisa, we develop high quality softwares, following the latest world-wide standards for development.

Tightly connected to Agile principles and we strictly implement all steps in order to be Agile. For the last 2 years, I have been working with Trunk-based development and using Feature-toggling as needed.

For the CI/CD side, we developed a pipeline on Jenkins. After each commit, our code is tested against Sonarqube and Unit Test requirements.

After the test is passed, it is automatically deployed to our Azure linux cluster environment using docker images.

Our key users are the ones working at our power plants all around Turkey. We do review meetings twice a month with them.

In order to ensure high quality of software, unit/ui/manuel testing are so much important for our development team.

Sincerely, I can say that I am a good Full-stack software developer specialized on .net/.netcore & Angular 8+ technologies.

At the same time, I have been working as a Technical Leader for Vektora/Neyasis/Enerjisa Uretim companies.

I am very democratic, sincere and trustful leader when it comes to colleagues.

And finally, I am from the ones that loves this job; I cannot sleep if I have an issue in mind that I could not solve that day.

Hope to have a coffee with you.
